

The Tan Tock Seng Hospital Move

ONE of the major moves that Rhema undertook in 1999 was the moving of Tan Tock Seng Hospital. The move was from February 1999 to May 1999. A total of 50 men were engaged and approximately 8 trucks were deployed everyday.

Tan Tock Seng Hospital is one of Singapore's oldest hospitals. The job entailed moving of equipment, beds, records, laboratories and also patients from over 30 different locations into a new multi-storey hospital complex.

This is not Rhema's first experience in hospital relocation. We have moved three other hospitals in Singapore.

